THE BATTLE FOR HEARTS AND MINDS MEN OF COURAGE

There are few characters in the Bible who match Daniel when it comes to courage. He rose to high public office while maintaining an uncompromising faith in God and his promises. The book of Daniel will be our focus this year at mkc 09.

Come up and hear Mark Ashton and Al Stewart bring us great Bible teaching from the book of Daniel. Come up and also hear from John Anderson (former Deputy Prime Minister) and Andrew Scipione (NSW Police Commissioner), both men having risen to high public office while maintaining an uncompromising faith in Jesus.

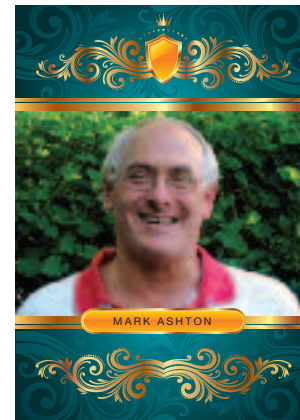

Convention dates and times

Three weekends:

- Weekend 1: 20-21 February 2009
- Weekend 2: 27-28 February 2009
- Weekend 3: 6-7 March 2009

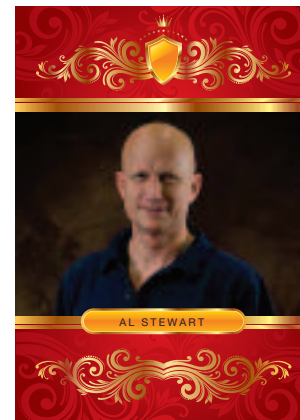

Times:

- Friday 8.30pm-9.45pm
- Saturday 9.00am-5.00pm

MARK ASHTON

Mark Ashton taught in Pakistan during his “gap” year in the 1960s. On returning, he studied English at Oxford and met some “real Christians” who challenged him that though he had grown up in church, read the whole Bible (and the Koran!) during his gap year, that he was not a real Christian. Though this irritated him immensely, he realised that they were right and was converted in his second term. He is currently Vicar of the Round Church at St Andrew the Great, Cambridge. He is married to Fiona and have three older children.

AL STEWART

Al Stewart has been following Jesus for 30 years, married to Kathy for 28 and involved with kcc for 25. These have been 3 of his best decisions. Al has three daughters and a son, only one daughter still at school. He has worked as the Anglican Bishop of the Wollongong region since 2007. He enjoys running on the beach with 'Musket' his Staffordshire terrier, time in the bush when he can get it, and Bruce Willis movies, (let the reader understand).

TIN SHED TIME

John Anderson

20-21, 27-28 february

John Anderson is former leader of the National Party and Deputy Prime Minister of Australia. All sides of politics have acknowledged his honesty and integrity, which reflect an uncompromising commitment to the Christian faith. John is married to Julia, and has four children.

Andrew Scipione

6-7 march

Andrew Scipione has had extensive experience in law enforcement, being appointed NSW Police

Deputy Commissioner in 2002 and Commissioner of Police in 2007. Away from his official duties he enjoys surfing, camping and spending time with his wife, Joy, and three children.
